MONETIZATION OF SILVER IS HOPE OF WEST SENATORS

Administration Leaders Favor Giving International Agreement, a Trial Before Embarking on Bimetal Legislation

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 12.—Although they see no indication that the President will change his attitude in regard to silver legislation at this session, members of the senate silver bloc, supported by the eleven silver states governors' committee, are awaiting another opportunity to press for silver legislation before adjournment, being encouraged by the close vote in the senate during consideration of the gold act of 1934.

Senator Wheeler of Montana, author of the rejected amendment, stated recently he believed the substantial silver vote, "probably the most substantial evidence of support for silver in many congresses," is direct evidence that the White House will be faced before the session closes with approving or disapproving a remonetization measure.

PRESIDENT HAS ALTERNATIVE

Administration leaders, however, remained confident they will be able to forestall such a development if the White House rules against a silver bill before the session ends. As pointed out recently, the President's supporters intend to propose as an alternative the recalling of the monetary committee of the world economic conference to consider further an international agreement. This will be done if silver strength becomes too strong during the next few weeks, and would be in the manner of a substitute to prevent remonetization at present.

The silver group, however, lead by Senator Wheeler, is probably more opposed at the present time to international agreements on silver than it has been for some time. Their opposition is explained in their belief that it was the agreement approved by the President in December which enabled the administration to defeat Wheeler's silver amendment to the gold bill. It is pointed out that the administration expressly asked senators to vote against the Wheeler amendment on the ground that the international agreement step providing for coinage of newly mined silver, should first be given a trial.

PITTMAN CRITICISED

Senator Pittman of Nevada, father of the London agreement provisions, has come in for his share of criticism from members of the silver group who are wedded to the remonetization plan as expressed in the Wheeler proposal. Pittman, however, joined with Senator Wheeler during the senate consideration of the latter's agreement and voted for it on the roll call.

TOM SCADDEN RESUMES WORK ON OAK FLAT

Thomas Scadden left Nevada City Sunday for his mining property near Columbia Hill, after spending the winter in Nevada City. He will stay until next October except for occasional visits to this city.

He will start at once on cleaning out ditches on his Oak Flat mine of 320 acres.

Mr. Scadden has driven a tunnel in 280 feet and expects to strike an old channel in about another 20 feet.

He is interested in the Placer Queen property of 320 acres and will also work on this property which adjoins the Oak Flat.

The Dudley Coe property of 80 acres in the same district is to be worked by Mr. Scadden.

SIX TEAMS BUSY ON ELKS BOWLING ALLEYS

Six teams have been organized by the Elks bowlers and they are using the fine alleys of the Nevada City lodge every night. The teams captains are Myers Mobley, Roland Wright, Dave Richards, Arthur M. Hoge, C. R. Clark and Bob Tharp.

There is to be a meeting of the bowlers tonight and plans are to be made at this time for the choosing of the teams.

YOUNG WIFE COMPLAINS HUSBAND BEATHER

On complaint of his wife, Ray Silva was arrested at his home on Pine street Saturday night by Chief of Police Robson. She charges that her husband beat her. The couple were married but a few months since, and Mrs. Zaida Silva, declares that two weeks after their marriage, her husband gave her her first beating and has beaten her since on other occasions.

Silva was arraigned before Judge W. L. Mobley, pleaded not guilty and his bail was fixed at $200. He will appear for trial tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

COMPETITIVE TEST FOR NEVADA CITY POSTMASTER JOB

To fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in this city, the United States Civil Service Commission has announced, at the request of the Postmaster General, and in accordance with an order of the President, an open competitive examination. The Nevada City office of postmaster pays $2500 a year.

To be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must reside within the delivery of this post office, must have so resided for at least one year next preceding the date for close of receipt of applications, must be in good physical condition, and within the prescribed age limits. Both men and women are admitted.

Under the terms of the Executive order, the Civil Service Commission will certify to the Postmaster General the names of the highest three qualified eligibles, if as many as three are qualified, from which the Postmaster General may select one for nomination by the President. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Applicants will not be required to assemble in an examination room for scholastic tests, but will be rated on their education and business experience and fitness. The Civil Service Commission will make inquiry among representatives local business and professional men and women concerning the experience, ability, and character of each applicant, and the evidence thus secured will be considered in determining the ratings to be assigned to the applicants.

The Commission states that presidential postmasters are not in the classifified civil service and that its duties in connection with appointments to such positions are to hold examinations and to certify the results to the Postmaster General. The Commission is not interested in the political, religious, or fraternal affiliations of any applicant.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS WILL MEET IN AUBURN

Nevada City, Roseville and Placerville Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet with Donner Post of Auburn tonight in an entertainment and initiation at the Veterans hall in Auburn.

A good sized class of recruits will be initiated in a nation-wide hookup of the radio. The date is the thirty-sixth anniversary of the sinking of the battleship Maine, in Havana harbor.

Commander Nelson of Donner Post has extended an invitation to the public to attend the ceremonial celebrating this historical event.

At a meeting of Banner Mountain Post of Nevada City last week, John Marks was elected Sr. Vice Commander to succeed Dr. F. E. McCullough, who resigned on account of leaving Nevada City. Marks election made a vacancy and Glen Clelland was elected to it and is now Junior Vice Commander.

Ex-Senator Tasker Oddie and Roy Hardy, mining men of Nevada, are expected to visit Nevada county mine properties early this week.

Mrs. Otto E. Schiffner and sons, Cecil and Robert, spent the week end in the bay district visiting friends.

Two-Dollar Dollar Drops To One Dollar

BY LETSON BALLIET
Industrial Economist

I have been asked by many what is meant of a 50-cent dollar, and what difference it makes, if a "dollar is a dollar"? In order to explain it will be necessary to use the correct term. "The words 50-cent dollar" are fraudulent, untruthful propaganda of the capitalists. The correct statement is, to reduce "the two-dollar dollar, to a one-dollar dollar" and that is just what President Roosevelt is aiming to do.

To explain, let us suppose that in 1929 it required $2 worth of the farmer's grain to support a man's life for one week. Your life was worth $2 a week in 1929. In 1933 your life is still worth $2 a week, and it takes just as much grain to support it. It takes $2 worth—but you can buy $2 worth of grain for a "paper bill" that says "one dollar" on it, but it really is worth $2, because it buys $2 worth. By doubling the value of gold, the President would make "one-dollar dollars" and double the amount of money, to refinance the masses, and relieve the depression conditions.

Let us suppose that you owed your banker $100, drawing 7 per cent interest. If you have to pay up your note with "two-dollar dollars," you are giving your banker $200 and paying 14 per cent interest.

Why give the rich man 100 per cent bonus on all the money he has loaned out, and on all the bonds he owns? Why double his interest income, by making the poor man pay his debts with "two-dollar dollars"?

The capitalists can buy grain enough to live a week, with two "one-dollar dollars" and his life isn't worth any more than the poor man's. The President's plan is to make more money. It will make industry, employment and business double.

The so called 50-60-cent dollar in reality means that if the "two-dollar dollar" reduced to $1.20 purchasing power from its $2 purchasing power, the capitalists call it a 60-cent dollar, because it cuts the rich man's bonus from 100 per cent to 20 per cent over the actual value of the dollar,—and he is crying because his gain is reduced.

At 59.06 cents the present dollar valuation is $1.1812.

WATER APPROPRIATION PROTESTS WITHDRAWN

All protests to the application to appropriate water from the South Fork of Little Deer Creek, in Sailor Flat, having been withdrawn, there will be no hearing on the application, according to the notice issued by Edward Hyatt, state engineer, received by the Nevada City Nugget.

Edward Bickel, who made the application, notice of which was published in this newspaper in August and September, states that within a reasonable time, Sailor Flat, where the water is to be used, will give this community another producing mine and another payroll.

Those withdrawing their protests were the Quaker Hill Gold Mining Company, George E. Poor and others.

SCOUTMASTER TAKES TROOP TO CHALK BLUFF

A group of Boy Scouts under Scout Master Edd Addington, enjoyed Sunday at the ghost town of Red Dog and down in the hydraulic diggings at Chalk Bluff.

They located an ideal picnic or camp ground and a natural lake in the diggings. There is plenty of room for a baseball field and other sports. They are quite enthusiastic over the spot and plan to return often. The boys enjoyed Alpine climbing, took pictures, and brought home a lot of petrified wood.

Carl Tobiassen Sr. kindly donated the truck for the boys to make the trip and all enjoyed a fine day.

The following made the trip: Scout Master Edd Addington, Carl Tobiassen Sr., Junior Assistant Scout Master A. Pratti, Carl Tobiassen Jr., Bob Small, Jack O'Neill, and Dick Marriott.

Mrs. Henry Schroeder, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Miller, in Grass Valley for some time, is spending a few days in Nevada City with her sister, Mrs. Florence Evans.

C. E. Bosworth is making a marked improvement in his furniture store by the building of a balcony that will add greatly to his display space.

	16x25
Myers Mobley	20x25

There were ten guns and 37 enthusiastic rounds were fired. Special mention should be given Dave Richards, who made a perfect score and in his second game carried an almost perfect record. Several others made good records also and Miss Catherine Tognarelli, 10 years old, again made a splendid score in her shooting.

There will be a meeting of the Skeet club Tuesday evening and all who are interested are invited to attend.

GRAVEL MINERS AT WORK UNDER DUTCH FLAT

Messrs. J. P. McFadden and Francis Fabian, who are opening a gravel mine under the town of Dutch Flat, were Nevada City visitors Sunday.

Mr. Fabian, who for a time worked the Enterprise mine in the Quaker Hill district east of Nevada City, has a lease on gravel of the Dutch Flat streets drifting 90 feet below the surface. Good progress is being made in the work and they displayed some nice looking nuggets and coarse gold taken from their operations.

Chicago capital is being used in this unusual mining enterprise.

The town of Dutch Flat is situated over a rich channel that has been mined up to the city limits. It produced large sums in early days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. N. Ott had as recent visitors their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. N. Ott Jr. from Sacramento.

Carl Hoffman, well known mining engineer of New York, is a visitor in Nevada City.

SCOUT REPORTS MESSAGE OF OUR PRESIDENT

BY ALBERT PRATTI
Junior Assistant Scoutmaster
Troop 6, Nevada City

This is the 24th anniversary of Scouting in the United States. The President's speech came over the National Broadcasting system through Station KGO Oakland, from the White House, Washington, D. C.

The program was opened with a march played by the U. S. Marine Band. The President commenced his speech at 9:10 A. M., Pacific Standard Time and 12:10 Eastern time. The President was presented by Mr. Walter Head, president of the Boy Scouts of America.

The President said: "That in front of the City Hall in San Francisco and in New York there are thousands of Scouts and Scouters listening for the National "Good Deed" that I am about to ask for." The President continued; "The aim of Scouting is to build up good citizenship" and mentioned the 25th anniversary of Boy Scouts to be held at a Jubilee at Washington next year and said that while it would be impossible to have every troop of the Nation there, he would like to have some representatives from every troop there.

The President announced the "GOOD TURN" that the Scouts of all the Nation were asked to do. The Good Turn is: "That every troop and every Scout are to collect furniture, clothing, bedding or anything that can be gotten that will be helpful to the needy of the nation." He then closed his speech by asking all the Scouts to join and follow him in repeating the Scout Oath.

"America, the Beautiful" was then played by the Marine Band. Mr. Walter Head, was again introduced and he gave a brief talk on Scouting and Citizenship. He also mentioned the good deeds and helpful things that the Scouts have been doing in time of distress such as follows: The hurricane of Florida and times of terrific storms and floods. He also said that Scouts are loyal and stand up for their rights.

The chief executive, James E. West, was presented and he spoke on and about the Good Turn that the President asked the Scouts to do. He also stated that there is only fifteen days to do it in. Mr. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, was presented and he stated that there are thousands of families in distress in the whole union.

The articles that are gathered by the Scouts for the Good Turn are to be turned over to the District Council or to the local Council. The reports should be in duplicate. Mr. Hopkins also distributed instructions and asked the cooperation of the whole nation. The Marine Band then played "The Scouts of America" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

The President has the record of 13 years of work with the Boy Scouts of America.

This is the first time that a President ever talked to the Boy Scouts of America over the radio. It is also the first time that the President of the United States ever issued a relief call to the Boy Scouts of America. We are all sure that the Nevada City Scouts will respond to the call of the President and do all we can to help him.

Miles Coughlin, secretary of the Nevada City Scout Council reported to Scout headquarters for the Tahoe Area at Auburn, that there were at the meeting in the Elks Hall, 25 scouts, 12 scouters, (members of the Scout Council) 5 former scouts, 6 parents of scouts, 12 citizens, 4 boys of scout age who are not scouts and 4 cubs.

Addresses were made by Miles Coughlin, who presided, Mayor Bennetts, Dr. C. W. Chapman, Judge Raglan Tuttle, Scoutmaster Edd Addnigton, and Horace Curnow, president of the Scout Council. All expressed themselves as pleased with the attendance and deportment of the scouts, and declared the Council would do its best in assisting them to carry out the "good turn" asked of them by the President.

Horace Curnow announced that there would be a meeting of the chairmen of the several committees next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce for the purpose of aiding the scouts to organize their work in doing the good turn the President has asked.

BIG IMPROVEMENT IN U. S. FINANCIAL AND BANK STATUS

Revaluation of the Dollar Brings Profit of $2,806,413,000 to the Treasury

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Amazing changes which have taken place in the country's financial situation compared with conditions existing at the time of the bank holiday, when the entire banking structure virtually collapsed, are disclosed by Federal Reserve Board figures.

In the period from March 8, 1933, to February 8, 1934, money in circulation declined by $2,221,000,000, reflecting the tremendous reduction in money in hoarding as a result of return of confidence in the banking structure, and the campaign of the Government to empound gold in the Treasury.

The value of monetary gold stocks of the country increased by $2,793,000,000, as a result of the revaluation of the dollar. The net profit on the revaluation of the dollar was $2,806,413,000, there having been a slight decrease in the actual volume of gold held as a result of exports.

Holdings of Government securities by the Federal Reserve Banks increased $551,000,000. The reserve banks have partially financed the Government's enormous borrowing program, although the purpose of the program of buying Government securities has been to put additional ready cash in the market so that the banks would resume the loaning of money.

Statistics relative to the financial situation February 8 follow:

Money in circulation, $5,317,000,000.

Monetary gold stocks, $7,036,000,000.

Government securities held by Federal Reserve Banks, $2,432,000,000.

Reserve bank credit outstanding, $2,606,000,000.

Member bank reserve balances, $2,736,000,000.

Reserve of Federal Reserve Banks $3,776,548,000.

Federal Reserve notes in circulation, $2,946,336,000.

Federal Reserve Bank notes in circulation, $201,984,000.

England No Measuring Stick For U. S. A.

It was the fashion last fall in certain conservative quarters to announce that Great Britian seemed to be recovering "without resort to drastic or novel measures." At that time a dozen or more members of parliament were in this country, frankly scrutinizing NRA at close range. Several were attending code hearings in Washington. Sir Montagu Norman was making his second appraisal of President Roosevelt's recovery program within the very brief interval of 3 months, as he told the board of directors of the Bank of England on his return late in September. Like Sir Montagu, the M. P.'s said they were "surprised," or "exhilerated," or "amazed." They told the English press of having encountered over here unmistakable evidences of genuine trade revival.

The vogue died down, possibly because of other distractions due to an inevitable reaction from the spurt started in July, but it has been revived in the ultra conservative press. Again there is a disposition to ignore the President's determination to aid industry by controlling recovery for a long-time stability. And we are told that only orthodox measures "such as England has applied" are necessary.

But, as Walter Lippmann has stressed in the New York Herald-Tribune, the example is "most misleading." Great Britian has a relatively simple industrial economy compared with the complex industrial and agricultural economy of the United States. "If comparisons are to be made," he says, "it is necessary to take Great Britian, plus Canada and Australia," and, even with South Africa and India included, there still is omitted an oil-producing country. "Imagine," continues Lippmann, "the British Isles, Canada, and Australia as being closely interrelated and then ask if the measures taken in the United Kingdom would have sufficed in Canada and Australia."

Great Britain, of course, is not required to adopt recovery measures applicable beyond the Isles themselves, but President Roosevelt does have to make policies that work in New York Iowa, and California.

To Restore Columbia

The old mining town of Columbia, near Sonora one of the most beautiful and typical of those camps in which centered the California gold story, is to stand through the years much as it was in the fifties. It has been mentioned before that within the possibilities and contemplations of the State Park plans was a restoration of buildings at Columbia and its establishment as a monument. I hear now that our State Park Commission has set aside fifteen thousand dollars which will be matched by an equal sum from the mining region and individuals interested and that a recently organized Historic Mining Towns Preservation League is already at work on the plans. Walls of the old Levi Building and engine house have been repaired, funds coming from the group. It is not probable they could have stood up through another winter and, in fact, those of the engine house had been condemned and were about to be torn down. There are plans to include the Wells Fargo and other structures and assurance now that the work will go ahead. The League has as its purpose to preserve Columbia and other mining towns which are landmarks of the days of '49. It is headed by Mrs. James Ellis Tucker, with Mrs. Rheta L. Zimmerman of San Francisco, secretary. Those who have been in Columbia know of the atmosphere and reminders which are there. It stands practically untouched, save by time, a camp which was once the center of some fifteen thousand miners and from whence was shipped millions of dollars in gold. Establishment of these monuments to the gold days, the starting or regular tourist trips through the region, the new attention given the region by men of letters and, in fact, the revived interest in gold promise, at last, to give to the Mother Lode that wider attention which it so long deserved.

The Hut On The Winding Way

They followed the lure of a spirit voice
From a land of snow afar,
And oft as they journeyed by night and by day,
Between them were hatred and war;
At length in the breast of a valley fair,
The Flame Flower bade them "stay;"
Their camp fires gleamed by laughing streams,
But they fought in the same old way.

Two rival chieftains, long ago,
With their foolish hates and fears,
And one was a young man tall and straight
While the other could boast of years;
Then as they plotted and dreamed of war,
The little god, Love stole in,
And Tucollie's heart grew tender and warm
And he turned away from his sin.

He told to his rival the story old,
Neath the oaks, in the soft spring air,
He prayed for peace with the waring tribe,
For the princess, Kapaka was fair;
And the old chief bowed his haughty head,
For once in the long ago,
He too had dreamed a dream of love
In a land of ice and snow.

So together they fashioned a brave new home
For the maid of their love and care,
And all thru the summer Tucollie toiled,
His heart like a shrine of prayer;
And the old chief smiled when the task was done
As he gazed on the hut with pride;
And the rival tribes smoked pipes of piece
When Tucollie claimed his bride.

Tucollie's home is crumbling now,
Out on the Winding Way;
But its pitiful ruins seem to tell
Strange tales of a by-gone day;
Of hatred and strife that were lulled to rest,
Of hearts that were fond and true—
Neglected and broken it whispers still
Of what love and a home can do.

A. Merriam Conner.

Legend—Tucollie, chief of the Wampumneys was led by a spirit voice to abandon his home in the northern wilds and seek a place of eternal sunshine... The Flame Flower, our California poppy was to be the sign that his quest was ended. A rival tribe followed, and Tucollie fell in love with the princess Kapaka.

For many years there was, on the Winding Way, not far from Sacramento, the remains of a strange Indian hut, which, it was claimed was originally the home of Tucollie and his bride Kapaka, whose love brought peace to the rival tribes. .....

WEEKLY COMMENT

By
CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

The Presidents radio talk direct to the Boy Scouts of America, gave a sudden perkup to the morale of the boys, especially those boys who take scout work seriously. F. D. R. has that way with him.

Outside of wartime orders the Presidential cancellation of all air mail contracts, probably is the most drastic executive order ever issued. It stuns one, when one stops to think of the effects of such an order. Of course, if it proves to have been entirely justified it ought to give the layman a pretty good idea of whom to trust.

Last week there was a stir around these parts, about who is who in the CWA. It was said that 25 men were laid off near Camptonville on account of non-eligibility. It was said that there was a wrong interpretation put on the original order. Well, anyway-these men ought not to feel too bad, because they have had about two months work before the correct interpretation of their eligibility came out.

Some one asked me not so long ago, "what is your idea about immortality?" My answer: "I believe that the spirit is indestructible, and that the spirit is virile, powerful, and definite in its action after it has left the human body. I do believe that such spirits as Lincoln's, rule this earth NOW more potentially than that same spirit did when it inhabited Lincoln's body. My belief is based on a natural fact. Nothing is ever destroyed, only it's form is changed.

WATER ON BRAKES

After the car has been washed the brakes may slip and this condition is more noticeable with linings that absorb a large amount of water, according to the Free Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. When brakes are wet the water acts as a lubricant and slipping results. This same type of lining may also grab if there is a slight film of water. This is caused by the water mixing with dust on the lining and forming a gummy substance.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Instead of "Crash That Line," It's "Crash Those Pins," With Ten Million U. S. Bowlers Crowding the Nation's Alleys

BY PHILIP MARTIN

ONCE again the indoor sports season arrives and the clamor of crowded stadia gives way to the clatter of crashing tenpins. Ten million bowlers are warming up their delivery, callousing their thumbs, and cursing splits, as the current bowling season gets under way.

In 25,000 recreation parlors throughout the hinterlands, nearly one-tenth of the nation's population is trying to make strikes. Not the NRA kind, of course, but the soul-satisfying type that occurs when the mineralite curves right into that 1 and 3 pin pocket. Or, in the case of a southpaw, 1 and 2.

Seven of these ten millyun pin-crashers represent organized teams which are members of the American Bowling Congress. And if you know your A. B. C., you are cognizant of the fact that its annual tournament is the "world series" of bowling.

In this classic some 2500 five-man teams and 5000 two-man teams joust for more than a hundred grand ($100,000 mex.) in prize money. Which gives you an idea.

The bowling germ has proved a very virulent and long-lived little bug. The game was a Dutch treat to America, a bunch of Vans having introduced it 300 years ago in lower New York. Bowling, you remember, contributed to the delinquency of Dame Van Winkle's husband, (the) old Rip.

Until 1840 the game was played on the verdant greensward. Then grass "alleys" gave way to the common wooden variety. Since the middle of the 19th century, bowling practically has been confined to indoor play. In 1875 the National Bowling Association was formed. The A. B. C. took shape in 1900, and has ruled since.

Bowling is not one of those games in which youth alone is served. Like bourbon, bowlers seem to improve with age. Some of the hardy perennials of the alley sport are Jimmy Smith of Milwaukee, Joe Scribner of Detroit, Phil Wolf of Chicago, Mike Mauser of Youngstown, O., Harry Votel of Pittsburgh, Jules Schmidt of St. Louis, Matt Luecker of Chicago, Pete Schultz of New York, and Emil Matak of St. Paul.

* * *

IN the last two decades, women have taken such an interest in the game that a Woman's Bowling Congress was organized in 1916. Each year the weaker sex (pardon a chuckle) flocks to the alleys as to bargain sales; and the women's feats are startling the men with monotonous regularity.

Of the feminine contingent, the name of Mrs. Floretta McCutcheon of Pueblo, Colo., stands out. This lady, who started her bowling career at the age of 35, has built herself a reputation which many of the outstanding male bowlers well might envy.

Among her accomplishments Mrs. McCutcheon can list four perfect 300 scores, a world's record three-game series mark of 817, an average of 245 for 12 consecutive games, and other feats, many of which eclipse those of men ball-heavers.

She even beat Jimmy Smith at a time when he was known as the "World's Greatest Bowler." And that's no mean feat on any man's alley.

The men may think they're kingpins in the bowling world and all that, but Mrs. Floretta McCutcheon, below, outstanding woman bowler, showed Jimmy Smith, above, a thing or two at a time when he was known as the "World's Greatest Bowler."

WEDNESDAY LAST DAY FOR $3 LICENSE PLATES

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—A final warning that Wednesday, February 14th, will be the last day upon which applications for 1934 license plates may be filed without payment of a delinquent penalty, was issued today by Russell Bevans, registrar of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The penalty imposed by law is equal to the amount of the fee. Thus the motorist with an ordinary pleasure car will be compelled to pay $6 for his plates instead of $3.

In the case of the owner of a commercial vehicle the penalty might be a great deal more.

Bevans announced that beginning Thursday, February 15th, officers of the California Highway Patrol would stop all persons displaying 1933 plates and inquire if an application has been filed for new plates.

FUNERAL HELD FOR RALPH R. WHITAKER

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Holmes Funeral Home for Ralph R. Whitaker, 51, cook of Susanville, whose auto left the road east of Truckee and plunged into the Truckee river.

The coroner's inquest indicated that Whitaker, enroute from Sacramento to Susanville, must have dozed at the wheel for a moment when his car landed in a deep pool with water over the top. He made a desperate attempt to escape. The lights of the car attracted passing cars.

A brother, Charles Whitaker of Sacramento arranged for the funeral and attended the services, which were conducted by Rev. Charles Washburn.

FAT COON STEALS HIS LAST HEN ON WET HILL

Noting that the count of his flock revealed one less every morning, C. E. Martz of Wet Hill decided, that since the door was locked each night, a four-legged thief must be the culprit. So he set a steel trap in the runway used by the chickens for entrance to the henhouse, and next morning discovered in it a very fat coon in great distress. He soon put an end to the varmint.

First of Series of Saturday Night Dances

There was a large attendance at the first of the series of Saturday night dances in Armory hall. More couples could have been accomodated, however, but Chief Louis Kopp declared it was a good start and he expects a larger crowd in the future. The music was especially good and everyone who attended reported a bang-up time.

LEASERS BRING BACK OLD MINE

MOJAVE, Feb. 10.—Another instance of the leasing system bringing back "old worked out mines," is the following excerpt from the Los Angeles Times:

"The Brown Monster and Reward mines in the Russ district, Inyo county, twelve miles north of Lone Pine and seven miles south of Independence, is again the scene of a gold rush, following one of the richest gold strikes reported in Inyo county in more than a score of years.

"A vein 12 inches wide has been discovered by the lessees in an old working which is yielding ore in which the gold can be flaked off with a finger nail and is easily distinguishable to the naked eye. It is the richest ore produced by any mine in eastern California, engineers state.

"The Reward and the Brown Monster mines were operated as far back as 1886 and the present strike has been missed by miners by about three inches. The vein gives every appearance of being a large ore body and work is progressing in opening it up."

The mine was recently leased by J. F. Brackett, W. E. Jones, W. A. Gould, Jack Diamond, R. B. Brackett and Jim (Hardrock) Wightman, pioneer prospector, all of Lone Pine.

Wightman is credited with discovering the strike. Scores of prospectors, miners, engineers and others have visited the property. New machinery is to be installed immediately.

Thursday evening the Bible Class of the Methodist church, are holding a social meeting. The men of the class are giving an excellent program and will serve refreshments for the entertainment of the ladies.

A business meeting of the two Circles of the Ladies' Aid Society are holding a meeting Wednesday evening. Several business matters are to be taken up.

Brick masons are busy today repairing the front of the National Market. Painters are also busy in giving this popular shop a neat up-to-date appearance.

The regular band is composed of 125 members but the special band has been cut down to 40, and this young man's musicial ability has qualified him for the special band of 40.

He stopped over in Berkeley to visit his sister and brother, Miss Helen Chapman and Warren, students at the University, and will be here in a few days to visit his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Miss Neta Botting is visiting in San Francisco. Her mother, Mrs. Thomas Botting of Nevada City, expects to leave this week for a few days visit in the bay district.

SAN JUAN MINE MAKES ANOTHER ORE SHIPMENT

The San Juan mine, above North San Juan, has trucked 120 tons of ore to the Nevada City Narrow Gauge railroad and the shipment is going forward to the Bradley company's mill in Tacoma, Washington, via railroad and boat, today.

As the summer goes on and gold continues to go up in price, the mine production will be increased. The ore carries a heavy copper content and if the price of copper went up this mine is now in a position to make much heavier shipments. C. J. Lyser is superintendent.

SAFETY RULE IS KEEP TO RIGHT

Violation of the law requiring motorists to drive their cars as close to the right hand edge of the highway as conditions permit, except when passing or preparing for a left turn, is a direct cause of the growing number of head-on collisions, according to the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association. The increase of such accidents, particularly on wide highways with plainly marked traffic lanes, indicates the need of a greater regard for the "keep to the right" rule, a statement by the motorists organization declares. Failure to obey this law results in hazards which offset the margin of saftey provided by the width of the highway and number of traffic lanes, the statement emphasized.

This driving fault is in open conflict with the law as well as contrary to the fundamental rules of motoring courtesy. The law on this subject is fully set forth in the California Vehicle Act, which requires that all motor vehicles must be driven as close to the right hand edge of the street or highway as is practicable, except when overtaking and passing other vehicles or getting into position to make a left turn.

With respect to keeping on the right half of the roadway, the law requires that all vehicleh must be driven on the right unless that portion is impassable because of construction work or other conditions.

Robert Farquhar, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Leete, is visiting Harley Leete Jr. over the week end.

Rev. H. H. Buckner of the Methodist church conducted services yesterday in Nevada City, North San Juan and Freeman's Crossing.
